LADIES! SECRET TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

Bring Back its Color and Lustre with Grandma's Sage Tea Recipe.

Common garden sage brewed into a heavy tea, with sulphur and alcohol added, will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant; removes every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use tonic, costing about 50 cents a large bottle, at drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not sinful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared. After another application or two your hair becomes beautifully dark, glossy, soft and luxuriant and you appear years younger.

WE ARE PAYING 25¢ per ton for cotton seed, selling bulls at $13.00 per ton and will exchange 3 tons bulls for 1 ton seed and 1 ton of cotton seed meal for ton of seed. Martha Wood & Coal Co.

THE DOG AS CARRIER OF DISEASE TO STOCK

Washington, Dec. 3.—The dog in the country is a useful and pleasant adjunct to the farm if he is properly controlled and cared for, but when neglected, may readily become a carrier of disease to stock, in addition to gaining opportunity to kill sheep and destroy gardens and other property. Dog ordinances, as a general rule, have been intended chiefly to curb the dog's power of doing harm by attacking, biting, killing or running sheep or stock. The part that he plays as a carrier of diseases to animals only recently has been recognized, according to the zoologists of the department of agriculture, who believe that when this is better understood, rural ordinances and laws which lessen this danger will gain the support of the community.

Of the disease carried to stock by dogs, the foot-and-mouth disease is probably of the greatest interest at this time. In this case the dog acts as a mechanical carrier of infection. The dog which runs across an infected farm easily may carry in the dirt on his feet, the virus of this most contagious of animal diseases to other farms and thus spread the disease to the neighboring herds. In infected localities it is absolutely essential, therefore, to keep all dogs chained and never allow them off the farm except on leash.

There are, however, many other maladies in the spread of which the dog takes an active part. In bulletin 260 of the United States department of agriculture, "The Dog as a Carrier of Parasites and Disease," it is pointed out that rabies, hydatid, ringworm, fava, double-pored tapeworm, roundworm, and tongue worm are often conveyed to human beings in this way. It occasionally happens also that the dog helps fleas and ticks in transmitting bubonic plague or the deadly spotted fever.

Hydatid disease is caused by the presence in the liver, kidneys, brain, lungs, and other organs, of a bladder worm or larval tapeworm. Bladder worms are often as large as an orange and may be larger. A dog which is allowed to feed on carrion or the raw viscera of slaughtered animals may eat all or part of a bladder worm containing numerous tapeworm heads. These tapeworm heads develop into small segmented tapeworms in the intestines of the dog. The tapeworms in turn develop eggs which are passed out in the excrement of the dog. They are spread broadcast on grass and in drinking water where animals can very well eat them and thus become infected. The dog is particularly liable to this disease because of its robbing habits. The eggs may get into human food, and persons who allow dogs to lick their hands and face also run the risk of getting the eggs of the tapeworm in their systems.

Prevention on the farm consists in so restraining the dog that he can not get at carrion or raw viscera. Viscera should be boiled before being fed to dogs and should never be thrown on the fields. If not cooked and fed, viscera and carcasses should be buried, buried with lime, or so disposed of as not to be accessible to dogs. Proper feeding of the dog is essential, and the owner who does not feed a dog properly has no right to keep one.

The parasite which causes giardia, a somewhat resembles the hydatid worm. A dog allowed to eat the brain of a giddy sheep may swallow this parasite and later distribute the eggs of the resulting tapeworm over the pasture. Sheep while grazing swallow the eggs with the grass which they eat. In the case of sheep dogs it is important to administer vermifuges often enough to keep them free of these worms. In the case of sheep meadows, the bladder worm in the meat, typical of this disease, is swallowed by the dog and again the tapeworm eggs are passed by the dog to grass or water, and there are eaten by sheep.

Of the external parasites which dogs may carry to animals, fleas and the various kinds of ticks are both troublesome and dangerous. The remedy is clear. The owner must keep his dog clean, not merely for the comfort and happiness of the dog, but to prevent it from becoming a carrier of disagreeable and dangerous vermin.

These reasonable measures, important to the stock on the farm, have a direct connection with the health of family. Where ringworm or other skin diseases break out among the children, or the worm parasites develop, it is well to determine whether a dirty or uncared for dog may not be carrying infection on his skin or hair, or be conveying disease from carrion directly to the food and persons of his friends. Even if no one is infected with disease, the folly of allowing a dog to remain dirty and have the freedom of a home where personal cleanliness and hygiene are respected, is apparent.

ARE PREPARING FOR CHARLESTON'S WEEK

Charleston, Dec. 3.—The general committee of the Southern Commercial congress met last night at the chamber of commerce in an informal session, when suggestions were offered as to preparing for handling the affairs of the congress. It was definitely decided to hold a monster mass meeting on Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock on Marion square, "National Defense" will be the subject of the day and addresses will be delivered by Secretary of War Garrison, Secretary of the Navy Daniels and Congressman Lemuel P. Padgett, chairman of the house naval committee.

Mr. W. G. P. Harding, of the federal trade commission, and Mr. Herman Metz, of New York, have accepted invitations to speak at the congress. Mr. Metz will speak on dye stuff.

The final meeting of the general committee will be held on Friday of next week. At this time reports of all committees will be made and final suggestions made. Dr. Clarence J. Owens, managing director of the congress will attend the meeting. Dr. Owens will arrive in Charleston Thursday.

Wanted for Old Murder.—Jona. La.—Benjamin Miller, formerly town marshal of Riverton, Ill., surrendered to Sheriff T. B. DeWitt recently. Why You Should Use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.—Because it has an established reputation won by its good works. Because it is most esteemed by those who have used it for many years, as occasion required, and are best acquainted with its good qualities. Because it loosens and relieves a cold and aids nature in restoring the system to a healthy condition. Because it does not contain opium or any other narcotic. Because it is within the reach of all. It only costs a quarter. For sale by all dealers.

HOUSEHOLD ARTICLES ARE LACKING IN ITALY

Rome, Dec. 3.—The scarcity of common-place articles of every day use such as needles, toilet supplies and drugs is probably more accentuated in Italy than in any of the other belligerent countries, because these things have been supplied to Italy almost entirely by Germany. One of the branches of an American sewing machine company, for instance, reports it is no longer able to supply medium-sized needles, because these are made in Germany. It also appears an impossibility to buy a fever thermometer in Rome, as this is another article of German make. The supply of aspirin and a number of other remedies is exhausted at most of the pharmacies, and doctors are finding it increasingly difficult to get their prescriptions filled because of the lack of drugs.

This dearth of necessities is rendered heavier to bear by the almost impossibility of getting goods from other countries and from the high cost of living. The cars for the transport of goods are all used for military purposes and Rome even is threatened by a sugar famine although the manufacturers have sufficient for the needs of the whole country. The cost of living has altogether increased about four times and promises to rise further.

INDIAN MAHARAJAH RETURNS TO DOMINION

Paris, Dec. 3.—After an unusually long absence of nine months from his Indian dominions, the Maharajah of Kapurthala, Jagatjit Singh Padahur, is leaving Paris to celebrate in his Punjab home the silver jubilee of his accession to ruling powers. He has only lately returned from a trip through all parts of the United States, including a visit to the San Francisco exposition, and he asked The Associated Press Correspondent to say how greatly he was struck by the moral and material progress of America since his first visit there some ten or a dozen years back.

The Maharajah excused himself from giving an opinion on the effect of the war on the natives of India. "But generally speaking," he said, "I do not think there is any danger of rebellion in India, though the Germans have been trying to stir up disloyalty and disaffection in Kapurthala and other places."

Kapurthala is one of the five Sikh states of the Punjab under British paramountcy and an area of six hundred square miles and supplies the Maharajah with a revenue of about $150,000 yearly. The Maharajah is the husband of one wife, an Indian princess. He has four sons and a daughter. One of the sons is actually a ruler during his father's absence. Another is a magistrate of Kapurthala, a third is at the front as an interpreter with General French's staff and the fourth is traveling with the Maharajah. The daughter is receiving her education in Paris.

The Maharajah and his state are represented in the war by a regiment of about 2,000 men, sent under sealed orders to East Africa, where it is already given a good account of itself.

WAMMA! DON'T YOU SEE YOUR CHILD IS SICK, CONSTIPATED

Look at tongue! Move poisons from liver and bowels at once.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember, a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful, and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system, and you have a well playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Co.
